\ Admitted pro hac vice*

1. On January 11, 2024, this Court issued an order summarily denying a motion for reconsideration filed by the Legislature, Senator Respondents, and Johnson Intervenor-

Respondents. Chief Justice Ziegler, Justice Rebecca Bradley, and Justice Hagedorn dissented.

2. The next day, parties submitted proposed remedies, remedial briefs, and expert reports. Over 1,500 pages of arguments, expert opinions, and supporting material and 16 GB of underlying source data raise substantial issues of fact. Experts must be put to the test of cross-examination. See, e.g., Prosser v. Elections Bd., 793 F. Supp. 859, 868 (W.D. Wis. 1992) (explaining expert’s partisanship analysis “was destroyed on cross-examination”). And factual disagreements must be tried and resolved by a neutral factfinder in this case. See, e.g., Greene v. McElroy, 360 U.S. 474, 496-99 & n.25 (1959) (“basic ingredients in a fair trial”); Goldberg v. Kelly, 397 U.S. 254, 269 (1970) (“due process requires an opportunity to confront and cross-examine adverse witnesses”). Those constitutional harms are compounded by the Court exempting this case from normal procedural rules and judicial impartiality. See Allen v. Georgia, 166 U.S. 138, 140 (1897); accord Jordan v. Massachusetts, 225 U.S. 167, 174-75 (1912); see also Caperton v. A.T. Massey Coal Co., 556 U.S. 868, 884 (2009).

3. In light of the factual issues dominating these filings, the Court must give parties a full and fair opportunity to litigate this case in a way that the current schedule does not allow. For the reasons given in the Legislature and Senator Respondents' response remedial brief filed today and those given in Movants' December 28, 2023, motion for reconsideration, the remedial scheduling order forecloses parties' ability to develop the record in a manner consistent with due process. Parties' remedial filings (and "corrected" filings) themselves evince the need for further factfinding about experts' methodology, the basis for corrections, and myriad other factual assumptions that pervade parties' assertions about communities of interest, partisan neutrality, or other claimed features of proposed remedies. See generally Leg. Remedial Response Br. This Court cannot choose a remedy before such factfinding and credibility determinations occur.

4. This Court's order of January 11, 2024, did not address any of Movants' reasons why reconsideration is warranted. Nor could it have addressed the factual disputes brought to light by parties' remedial proposals submitted on January 12, 2024. Those proposed remedies move millions of Wisconsinites, unnecessarily disenfranchise hundreds of thousands of citizens, and contemplate extensive statewide changes that cannot possibly be analyzed by the parties, their experts, the Court-appointed consultants, and ultimately the Court in the amount of time provided by the Court and without the standard adversarial pretrial and trial processes that governs every other litigation in the State.

WHEREFORE, the Wisconsin Legislature, Respondent Senators, and Johnson Intervenor-Respondents request that the Court's order denying their motion for reconsideration be reconsidered and that this Court amend its remedial scheduling order to allow an appropriate amount of time for further factfinding through the procedures provided in Wisconsin's civil rules of procedure and a hearing before a neutral factfinder.

Dated this 22nd day of January, 2024.
