Statement of issues

#1 issue I proved my case in court that i did not have to report this accident to police because my property damage was under a thousand dollars with witnesses and evidence the fact I was found guilty is my issue I believe I should have been found inocent,

Statement of case

I was giving a ticket for not reporting an accident on 4/14/21 a Traffic forfeiture of $389.50 afterwords I tried to work it out with the DA Tempelis but he just wanted for me to plead guilty to not keeping my vehicle under control and he would drop the not reporting an accident but I believed I was innocent of both so I went to trial and was found innocent of not ~~reporting an accident~~ not keeping my vehicle under control and guilty of not reporting an accident now I file an Appeal because I believe I am inocent.

State mand of facts

I was given a ticked for nod reporting an accident to police

The law says that if its aparent that damage exceeds $1000.00 dollars then I have to report accident.

I proved damage was less than 1000.00 page 35 I showed the court with a receipt how much the same damage costed me before 480.00 for new bumper to be installed 80.00 for bumper on Ebay page 37 shows that I payed 200.45 to have my tires put back on. So adding everything up everything was 760.45 to have my car exactly the way it was before

Argument

It all comes down to If ~~the~~ it's apparent the damage exceeds 1000.00 then I have to report accident to police. When I had gotten out of my vehicle and walked around my car it was apparent to me I was out about 500 for new bumper because I had replaced it before and the only other ~~dam~~ thing was to have my 2 tires put back on the rim which I gave the court receipts for that also and also like I told the court I had a piece of trim pop off the side which I popped back on ~~for~~ with new panel tabs for 10 00 so I proved to the court that my damage wasn't even close to 100000

Conclusion

I'd like the appeals court to strike down my guilty verdict and find me not guilty your honour
